

At Cats.com it's basically a site where you can keep track of all the cats you have. Add new cats or delete old cats. Have a basic description of each cat along with the features of the cat (color, weight, gender). The site is more for large kennels where people leave their cats when they are going to be gone for a long period of time. The cat owners can log in and see how the cat is doing. Cat care people will give updates directly on the site.

Target Audience: People who own a lot of cats or Kennels that need to keep track of all the cats they have staying at the cat care kennel place.
